

Name:

Question – Week 22

According to Weyland (2012), which of the following best explain why democratization failed in most countries during the Arab Spring?

- a. Protesters were driven by emotions and passions, thereby making them “irrational.”
- b. Protesters made cognitive shortcuts, which drove an emulation effort.
- c. Social and economic conditions in the MENA were not suitable for democracy.
- d. The religious and cultural practices of the MENA were not conducive to democratic governance.